Catalog No.	6009	Region	The Southern Levant
Name	Fragment of Narmer serekh from Tell es-Sakan	Site	Tell es Sakan
Date (Period)	Dyn. 1	Locality	Unknown
Date (King)	Narmer	Depository	Service des Antiquités de Gaza
Dated By	Royal name	Registration No.	A.504-1
Type	Vessel	Dimensions	1.6 cm H, 1.5 cm L (inscription); 3.3 cm H, 3.8 cm L (object)
Method of Inscription	Incised
Material	Pottery	Signs

References:

de Miroschedji, 2000, pp. 29-30, p. 30 (lower) de Miroschedji and Sadek, 2000, pp. 136-137, p. 137, fig. 9
de Miroschedji and Sadek, 2001, pp. 37-44, p. 41, fig. 10.3
de Miroschedji et al., 2001, pp. 87-88, p. 88, fig. 13.1
van den Brink and Braun, 2003, pp. 78-79, de Miroschedji and Sadeq, 2005, p. 163, p.164, fig. 19.9.2a&b Pätznick, 2009, Appendix A, p. 317, no. 58.13,

Comments

This object was a surface find. The serekh on the pottery sherd was incised before firing (de Miroschedji & Sadek , 2000). De Miroschedji 2000, de Miroschedji and Sadek 2000, van den Brink and Braun 2003, and Pätznick 2009 attribute this inscription to Narmer. De Miroschedji and Sadeq 2005 say that the inscription is possibly Narmer.

2a
0 1 2 3 cm
2b