Comments

Amiran et al. 1983 and Ilán 2002 attribute this to either Narmer or Aha. Van den Brink describes it as a "fragment" and makes no attempt to date it. According to Levy et al 2001, this is too fragmentary to identify a king's name.

Editor's Note: Narmer is more likely than Aha because of the frequency of Narmer inscriptions in the Southern Levant and the paucity of Aha inscriptions.
